Revolabs HD Wireless Microphones to be Distributed in UK and Ireland by RGB Communications, Ltd

MAYNARD, Mass., May 27, 2010 --Revolabs, Inc. (www.revolabs.com), a leading provider of wireless microphone systems, today announced the signing of a Distribution Agreement with RGB Communications, Ltd., a three times winner of the AV Distributor of the Year award. This agreement will increase the awareness and sales of the Revolabs Wireless Microphone product line in the UK and Eire markets.

"RGB Communications is a proven, innovative distributor in the audio/visual market and will help Revolabs expand our presence in the UK and Ireland", said Gregory Shalov, Vice President of Global Sales, Revolabs, Inc. "The synergy of our wireless microphone line with RGB Communications' other product lines makes this an ideal partnership."

"This alliance is significant for RGB Communications, as the Revolabs' product line offers unique benefits to AV installers and users", stated Caroline Britt, Managing Director, RGB Communications. "The ability to freely move around a meeting without wires, combined with security and rechargeability, while in total compliance with the upcoming Ofcom regulations, are major advantages for our customers. We expect that the addition of the Revolabs Wireless Microphones to our audio-visual solutions will help propel our business to the next level."
